

READING ROOM

Journal of Clinical Pathology

The Journal of the Association of Clinical Pathologists

RECEIVED
MAY 24 1971
National Library of Medicine

Vol. 24, No. 1, February 1971

Whole plasma showing the three morphological entities identified with the Australia (hepatitis-associated) antigen: small pleomorphic spherical particles measuring approximately 20 nm in diameter, the long tubular forms, and large solid spherical particles measuring 40-45 nm in diameter. See p. 1, page 4.