

5896
READING

Journal of Clinical Pathology

The Journal of the Association of Clinical Pathologists

Vol. 26, No. 11, November 1973

Photograph of a cross immunoelectrophoretic pattern of the sol phase of sputum from a patient with chronic bronchitis showing eight of the nine plasma proteins commonly found in the continuous phase of the mucous ground substance. The antihuman serum protein antiserum was incorporated into the antibody agarose phase. See page 854

