processing of the tissue obtained. Useful chapters are included on the interpretation of biopsy specimens and on the correlation of renal structure with function.

Pathologists called on to examine renal biopsies will find this a valuable slim book to add to those already by their microscope.

Notice

Malignant lymphomas

An international course on Malignant Lymphomas, sponsored by the Boerhaave Committee for Postgraduate Medical Education of the University of Leiden, will be held in Noordwijkerhout, The Netherlands on 3-6 April 1979. The programme is designed for haematologists, immunologists, and pathologists with a special interest in diagnosis, clinical evaluation, and therapy of patients with malignant lymphomas. Enquiries should be addressed to: Secretariat of the Boerhaave Committee, University Medical Center, Rijnsburgerweg 10, Leiden, The Netherlands.

Correction

Paper by R. C. Curran and J. Gregory (Volume 31, page 974): in the legends to Figures 1, 2a, and 2b, 'γ heavy chain' should have read 'δ heavy chain.'
