HISTOPATHOLOGY

Official Journal of the British Division of the International Academy of Pathology

Editor

Professor R N M MacSween,
Western Infirmary, Glasgow, UK

Aims & Scope

The prime purpose of Histopathology is to publish original histopathological material having clinical application in the study of human disease.

The Journal is designed to be of practical importance to the diagnostic histopathologist and to investigative workers in clinicopathological fields of study contributing to the better understanding of disease in man. Each issue of the Journal contains articles which relate to the histopathological diagnoses based on standard histological techniques, immunohistochemistry and ultrastructural investigations. The Journal also carries review articles and case reports from time to time. In addition, there are regular commentaries highlighting important recent advances which have been made in the discipline.

Forthcoming Highlights

Primary low grade B cell lymphoma of the conjunctiva: a mucosa associated lymphoid tissue (MALT) type lymphoma, A C Wotherspoon et al.

The histological diagnosis of clinically documented cases of cryptogenic organising pneumonia: diagnostic features of transbronchial biopsies, R Dina & M N Sheppard.

Alveolar soft part sarcoma: evidence for its myogenic origin and for the involvement of 17q25, R Sciot et al.
